

2015 Meeting Resident Competition

	First	Second	Honorable Mention
Trauma	Kristina Ziegler, MD, Time in Target Blood Glucose Range is Associated with Survival in Trauma ICU Patients, Stamford Hospital		Vladimir Coca-Soliz M.D., Introduction of the daVinci Robot and SSIs, Saint Mary's Hospital
Clinical Oncology	Laura C Lamb, MD, Breast MRI: a retrospective review of the utility and pitfalls in newly diagnosed breast cancer, The Hospital of Central Connecticut	Christian D. Cain MD, Adrenal Incidentaloma: Masquerading Rare Retroperitoneal Schwannoma, Stamford Hospital
General Surgery 1	Rakesh Hegde MD, Impact of Surgical Site Infection (SSI) Control bundle implementation in reducing infection rate following Colorectal Surgery a Single Centre quality improvement study, Waterbury Hospital	Charles T. Drinnan, Ph.D, Treatment of Hyperoxia-Induced Lung Injury with Patient-Specific, Neonatal iPSCs, UCONN Health Center
General Surgery 2	Gopi Ukani MD, Putting the Antibigram to Use to Decrease Surgical Site Infections, Saint Mary's Hospital	Todd Jensen, MSc, Esophageal Tissue Engineering, UCONN Health Center
Surgical Specialties	M. T. Rishi, MD, Adeno-HSA12B Delivery Improves Neovascularization in a Murine Model of Hind Limb Ischemia, UCONN Health Center	Sandeep Sachidananda, Use of Adjunct Intraop Cone Beam CT (CBCT) with Real Time 3D Overlay Improves Diagnostic Accuracy of Electromagnetic Navigational Bronchoscopy (ENB) , Waterbury Hospital
Plastic Surgery	Basil Nwaoz, MD, Effectiveness of Pecs blocks for elective subpectoral breast augmentation: a case series, Stamford Hospital	Eduardo Sandoval MD, Massive Recurrent Rhinophyma Successfully Treated With Radical Excision and Skin Graft Coverage: A Case Report and Review of the Literature, Hartford Hospital
Bariatric Surgery			Melissa Santos Ph.D, TweetChatting a Bariatric Surgery Procedure: The Impact of Social Media on Program Visibility, Connecticut Children's Medical Center