CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION CREDIT INFORMATION

Accreditation

The American College of Surgeons is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

The American College of Surgeons designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Program Objectives:

At the conclusion of this meeting, the learner should be aware of surgical research taking place in Connecticut, have a basis from which they can further examine new techniques, be able to discuss issues related to LGBTQ+ persons in surgery and be able to begin to develop communities in surgical training and work, and recognize the essential role of teaching and mentorship in surgical practice, and apply strategies for effective knowledge transfer and guidance to surgical trainees.

CONNECTICUT CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION, INC. ANNUAL MEETING
OCTOBER 13, 2023
TRUMBULL, CT

In accordance with the ACCME Accreditation Criteria, the American College of Surgeons must ensure that anyone in a position to control the content of the educational activity (planners and speakers/authors/discussants/moderators) has disclosed all financial relationships with any commercial interest (termed by the ACCME as an “ineligible company”, defined below) held in the last 24 months (see below for definitions). Please note that first authors were required to collect and submit disclosure information on behalf of all other authors/contributors, if applicable.

Ineligible company: Any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services used on or consumed by patients. Providers of clinical services directly to patients are NOT included in this definition.
Financial Relationships: Relationships in which the individual benefits by receiving a salary, royalty, intellectual property rights, consulting fee, honoraria, ownership interest (e.g., stocks, stock options or other ownership interest, excluding diversified mutual funds), or other financial benefit. Financial benefits are usually associated with roles such as employment, management position, independent contractor (including contracted research), consulting, speaking and teaching, membership on advisory committees or review panels, board membership, and other activities from which remuneration is received, or expected. ACCME considers relationships of the person involved in the CME activity to include financial relationships of a spouse or partner.
Conflict of Interest: Circumstances create a conflict of interest when an individual has an opportunity to affect CME content about products or services of an ineligible company with which he/she has a financial relationship.

The ACCME also requires that ACS manage any reported conflict and eliminate the potential for bias during the educational activity. Any conflicts noted below have been managed to our satisfaction. The disclosure information is intended to identify any commercial relationships and allow learners to form their own judgments. However, if you perceive a bias during the educational activity, please report it on the evaluation.

James H. Foster, M.D.

On June 17, 2003, Dr. James H. Foster, Professor of Surgery Emeritus at the University of Connecticut School of Medicine died at his home in Avon, Connecticut after a one-year struggle with pancreatic cancer.

Jim Foster was born in Hamden, CT on June 24, 1930. His father was Lewis C. Foster, M.D., a respected surgeon in New Haven and Clinical Professor on the Yale Faculty, his mother, Alice, a former operating room nurse. As a youth Jim attended Hopkins Grammar School and was a ranked junior tennis player in the state. He continued his love for tennis throughout his life and was a fierce competitor still at the game in the year before his death. He graduated from Haverford College in 1950 and from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1954. He served a surgical internship at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis followed by two years in the U.S. Air Force. Jim received his surgical training at the University of Oregon School of Medicine under the tutelage, and the admiring eye, of the revered surgeon and medical humanist, J. Englebert Dunphy. After completing his residency he remained on the faculty in Portland for five years chiefly at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

In 1966, Hartford Hospital recruited Dr. Foster to be its first full-time Chief of Surgery. Prior to that the department of surgery had been conducting a well-regarded residency for twenty years under the leadership of voluntary practitioner chiefs. John Reed, the first graduate of the program in 1950, would be the fourth Hartford Hospital surgeon to be President of the New England Surgical Society in 1980. As with many high-volume community hospital programs of the time, the emphasis was on clinical care, surgical judgment and guidance based more on anecdotal evidence and experience than on science. Jim soon changed that emphasis by inserting a quest for evidence-based decision making while respecting and relying upon the skills, knowledge and mentoring gifts of the surgeons to teach his residents.

Within a few weeks of his arrival he started a weekly Morbidity and Mortality Conference, replacing a desultory complications conference. It continues to this day essentially unchanged after nearly forty years. As his first chief resident, I can attest that this was a fearsome undertaking: presenting each case, accounting for wound infections, IV site phlebitis, urinary retentions, anastomotic failures, and, of course, every death on all services. Jim sat at the front of the room presiding, but never allowing an adversarial environment to be created. Insertions of comment were welcomed from all participants. His favorite line at the conclusion of each presentation was, "How could we have done this differently?" And when the discussion became mired in anecdotal commentary, Jim would always ask, "Does anyone have any FACTS on this subject?"

Every resident knew he had a chief who was on educational and oversight mode 24 hours a day. Every attending surgeon knew he had a chief to whom he would be accountable for his patient care and for his role in education. Medicare was just a year old. The elderly poor who had constituted much of the patient population on the resident teaching service were now in the care of private surgeons. Jim Foster would not have his residents' training dependent upon a thinned out "ward" service. Every patient would be a teaching patient and the surgeons who adapted to this philosophy became the vital core of his teaching program, and would bring credit to him, to themselves, and to the institution throughout his twelve-year tenure as chief.

With the advent of organ transplantation, Jim encouraged one of his graduating residents, Robert Schweizer, to go and train with Dr. Belzer and return to establish the transplantation program at Hartford Hospital in 1972. With burgeoning possibilities in cardiac surgery, he supported and encouraged Henry Low and Thomas Donovan to develop that program. A semi-dormant research laboratory was expanded. Residents became engaged in basic and clinical research, presentations at regional and national meetings became commonplace, and publications appeared more frequently in the literature.

Then in 1974 Dr. Foster set for himself the task of enhancing the knowledge about solid liver tumors with the goals of guiding better surgical treatment and improving patient care. Since the numbers of patients with these lesions in any one institution were small, he decided to gather material from the support of his hospital and the cooperation of his many friends throughout the country, Jim personally visited 98 hospitals in 48 cities in 28 states collecting 650 abstracts of liver tumor patients. Pathological material on each case was reviewed by his pathologist-collaborator at Hartford Hospital, Dr. Martin Berman. The product of this tour de force was monograph #22 in the W.B Saunders series Major Problems in Clinical Surgery entitled Solid Liver Tumors by Foster and Berman published in 1977. Jim's half of the dedication was to Dr. Dunphy. Even after 25 years, the monograph continues to be referenced in papers and discussions on the subject. Jim Foster became an international authority on the management of liver tumors, lending his expertise to the care of patients in Connecticut, and appearing on panels and in the literature until his retirement from surgery in 1993.

As Chief of Surgery during the seventies, Dr. Foster was a strong proponent of close ties between Hartford Hospital and the fledgling University of Connecticut School of Medicine in nearby Farmington. To encourage the process, Jim decided to relinquish his position at Hartford Hospital in 1978 to become Professor and Chairman of Surgery at the medical school. He brought strength, integrity and energy to the surgical program and to the institution. At the state level he was a leader of the Connecticut Society of American Board Surgeons. At its yearly joint meetings with the Connecticut Chapter of the American College of Surgeons, the highlight of the proceedings was the panel moderated by Jim Foster. Ever-vigilant in recognizing pseudo-science and self-serving hyperbole, and with his typical command of the English language (and his audience), he led discussions of peptic ulcer surgery, pancreatitis, pancreatic cancer, breast cancer and other surgical subjects with memorable skill and common sense. On the national scene, Dr. Foster was a member of the American Surgical Association. During his tenure on the American Board of Surgery many of his Connecticut surgical colleagues were given the honor of serving as guest examiners for the certifying exam.

Jim Foster's talents, wisdom and work ethic were recognized at the regional level where he served on the executive council of the New England Surgical Society for over fifteen years, first as the Connecticut representative, then five years as recorder, four as secretary, president elect, and president in 1989.

During those years Jim and his wife "Sally" set aside time for travel. One of his favorites was trekking in Nepal in the "foothills" of the Himalayas. It was there that he became somewhat taken by the Eastern philosophies and simpler way of life. It was counterpoint to what he observed as a data-driven, computer-oriented emphasis on technology and materialism in western thought and in western medicine. He felt that in the rush to embrace technology the human element of medicine was being pushed aside. He campaigned in his public pronouncements to encourage a correction in the course medicine was taking, advocating meaningful time spent with the patient and a return to a thorough history and physical examination before the fancy tests. As a man well-grounded in poetry and literature, Jim later became a medical parodist rewording some classic poems to express his concerns. An example was his parody of The Shooting of Dan McGrew by Robert W. Service refashioned to depict a man presenting with a simple sebaceous cyst in which the following revised stanza appeared:

After multiple tests there followed the stress of the long wait for news to return. A whole week went by before the doctor replied with a voice now full of concern: "Your potassium's low, which means we must know if your adrenal has a tumor inside. A scan known as CAT will help tell us that and will let us your future decide."

The most vivid profile of the multitalented James Foster was portrayed in his presidential address to the New England Surgical Society at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, September 23, 1989. Entitled, Some Eastern Thoughts for Northeastern Surgeons, it expounded further on Jim's concern with scientific materialism and some lessons taught in the Far East. It is an appropriate primer for those embarking upon a surgical career, but must reading for those in the middle- at the peak of such a career. Pithy ideas are found there, such as: "We must not let the amorality of the marketplace be an excuse for dispensing with the selfless ethic that Medicine has followed for millennia. It is that ethic rather than our science and technology that commands the respect of our patients and the public. That ethic and those values have no measurable price and never will."

"The fundamental difference between East and West that I would like to stress is that the Easterner believes that values and attitudes are more important than measurements and prices. Quality is more important than quantity, and principles are more important than facts and data."

"Eastern culture is also noted for its reverence-reverence for all forms of life, for quiet, for nature, for the mountains, for old age, even for death. You may not have noticed, but reverence is gone from our contemporary American culture."

A few years later, in 1993, Jim Foster retired to Emeritus Professor status but remained involved in medical student education, curriculum development and in a senior advisory role helping the New England Surgical Society adapt its annual meetings to the 21st century. An accomplished artist himself, he encouraged Sally in their travels to take up watercolors and capture the landscapes at home and away. She became so skilled in her own right that one-person shows of her work were held with Jim as proud behind the scenes supporter, framer, transporter and friendly official greeter. Not surprisingly, for those who know Sally, proceeds from the sale of her work went to a Save the Children Fund in Afghanistan. Never idle in retirement, Jim Foster nurtured his innate humanism by reading the works of Shakespeare, seeking out medical references in the plays and sonnets. From this pursuit came a book, A Doctor's Shakespeare, fully illustrated with drawings by the author with quotes pertaining to physicians, health, and medicine from Elizabethan times. In the final section we find again Jim the poet/parodist rewording Shakespeare to deliver his message of never forgetting the basics in the care of patients under the pen name Rattlesword. Dedicated to "those several hundreds of patients who taught me something of the human side of medicine", it was published in 2001, a year before he learned of the dread malignancy that would take his life.

Viewing his life in its entirety one sees an individual whose multi-talents were extraordinary in variety and depth: an accomplished athlete, surgeon, physician, editor, writer, poet, artist, traveler, philosopher, leader, friend and sponsor of the efforts of so many others, yet habitually embarrassed when any accolades came his way. He made an indelible mark on family, friends and colleagues and he will be missed. The sincere condolences of this society are warmly extended to Sally, his three children, and five stepsons. I think he would approve of a conclusion to this memorial statement drawn from the final lines of his presidential address. He said, "When you walk in the quiet of the Himalayas, each person you pass on the trail nods his head, clasps his hands, and says, Namaste. The word is both a hello and goodbye, have a nice day and God be with you." Namaste, Jim, and thanks for the honor.

2023 Annual Meeting Minutes

13 October 2023 – 12:00 p.m.

The Connecticut Chapter of the American College of Surgeons Professional Association, Inc.

The 2023 Annual Meeting of the Connecticut Chapter of the American College of Surgeons Professional Association, Inc. was convened at 12:00 p.m. by David Shapiro, MD, MHCM, FACS.

Dr. Lui presented opening remarks and acknowledged our Council members for their hard work during the year. New Chapter members and new Fellows were also acknowledged, welcomed, and congratulated. Dr. Shapiro reflected on the first year of his term as President.

Drs. Meinke and LaVorgna, ACS Governor(s)-at-Large gave brief remarks on behalf of the ACS Board of Governors.

A motion was made from the floor to approve the minutes of the 2022 Annual Meeting. The motion was carried with a unanimous vote.

Dr. Shapiro presented the slate of officers for a one-year term (2023 – 2024) as follows:
President: David Shapiro, MD, MHCM, FCCM, FACS, President-elect: Royd Fukumoto, MD, FACS, Secretary: Christine Finck, MD, FACS, and Treasurer: Shawna Kettyle, MD, FACS.

The following were nominated to serve as Council members for 2-year terms expiring at the Annual Meeting in 2026: Roselle Crombie, MD, FACS. After hearing no nominations from the floor, a vote was held, and all were approved by unanimous consent.

Dr. Kettyle reported that the Chapter had $87,107 combined in checking, savings, and accounts receivable versus $84,826 in the prior year. It was noted that most of the expenses from the Annual Meeting were not included in this figure.

Dr. Bliss reported that membership was up over the prior year (194 vs. 180) with more renewals expected before year-end.

Dr. Shapiro recognized Dr. Rekha Singh for her service as Councilor.

Our Medical Student Scholarship Recipients were also recognized.

Members were directed to the meeting proceedings book to read Committee reports.

Dr. Crombie acknowledged the meeting supporters, exhibitors, the meeting management team, the Trumbull Marriott and the College. Several other meeting housekeeping matters were addressed.

At 12:30 p.m. the annual meeting of the Connecticut Chapter of the American College of Surgeons Professional Association, Inc. was adjourned.

2024 Committee Reports

Program Committee: Roselle Crombie MD FACS (Chair), Felix Lui MD FACS, David Shapiro MD FACS, Christopher Tasik, Royd Fukumoto, MD, FACS, Shawna Kettyle, MD, FACS: The Program Committee enjoyed another very successful year with over 80 abstracts submitted. The Committee again worked with the ACS to provide our CME credits for the Annual Meeting. On the vendor support side, we are pleased to have meaningful support from our industry partners for both the exhibits and our Surgical Skills Competition. The Committee welcomes your active participation and looks forward to your feedback on the Annual Meeting Survey.

Committee on Young Surgeons: Kristen Glasgow, MD: The Committee is working on developing more content for the coming year including virtual programming.

Resident Committee: The Residents Committee had a very successful year which kicked off at the annual meeting with strong attendance at their sessions. The Committee's virtual ABSITE prep course kicked off the year in January! They are actively making plans for the 2025 ABSITE course which will run virtually.

Patient Safety and Quality Committee: Jonathan Blancaflor, MD, FACS—The CtSQC continues to re-organize and look at projects where it can bring value to CT surgeons and our patients.

Diversity and Inclusion Committee: David Shapiro, MD, FACS – This Committee continues to shape its mission and vision.

Women in Surgery Committee: Christine Finck, MD, FACS – The WIS Committee had a strong year last year which included hosting another highly successful session at the Chapter meeting.

All Committees are open to membership for all Chapter members. Please reach out to Mr. Tasik at info@ctacs.org for more information.

Medical Student Scholarships

Annually, the Connecticut Chapter of The American College of Surgeons Professional Association sponsors an award for excellence in the Surgical Sciences to a graduating senior medical student at the Frank H. Netter, MD School of Medicine at Quinnipiac University, the University of Connecticut School of Medicine, and the Yale School of Medicine.

This award is presented to stimulate student interest in the surgical disciplines and to recognize outstanding achievements in these areas. The award is not restricted to excellence in general surgery or a specific surgical subspecialty but is presented to the student showing the best overall performance in any of the surgical disciplines.

Congratulations to the 2024 recipients!

The Michael M Deren, MD, FACS Legislator of the Year Award

In September 2019, Council dedicated this award in memory of our colleague and friend, Michael Deren, MD, FACS, who succumbed to a rare illness on July 28, 2019. We will miss his keen insight, his encyclopedic knowledge of medical and world history, his passion for service to his patients and his fellow physicians, his kindness and generosity, his love for his wife, Anne Marie, for whom he often took home a dessert from Council meetings, and his dedication to our Chapter for over 25 years.

Dr. Deren was born in New Haven, CT, attended Seymour schools, obtained his Bachelor of Arts in English at Georgetown University, and his M.D. at Georgetown Medical School. He performed his general surgical residency at Hartford Hospital and then served as a surgical captain in the U.S. Marine Corps in Okinawa. He pursued a cardiothoracic fellowship at Yale University and later returned for a certificate in Physician Leadership from the Yale School of Management. He was in private practice for over 30 years and served as the chief of surgery at Lawrence + Memorial Hospital for 23 years.

To say he was dedicated to organized medicine is an understatement. Dr. Deren was truly an advocate for his colleagues and patients in and out of the operating room. He served the Connecticut Chapter in various capacities including Secretary and President. Dr. Deren served in numerous roles at the American Medical Association, including Chair of the Council on Constitution and Bylaws and the Chair of the Surgical Caucus, as President and later Chairman of the Council of the Connecticut State Medical Society, and in many other professional and civic organizations in Connecticut and across the country. After he left the operating room, he continued to practice at the Backus Hospital Wound Care Clinic and served as Editor of Connecticut Medicine or as he affectionately called it "The Other New England Journal".

Outside of medicine he was an accomplished chess player who contemplated pursuing the path to Grand Master, fortunately for his patients and colleagues, he chose surgery. Dr. Deren loved playing his Steinway piano and would spend hours working pieces to perfection. He volunteered as a tutor for immigrant students in the Norwich area and was honored as a Knight in the Order of Malta. He also enjoyed cars and driving – it was not uncommon for him to drive from his home in New London to a meeting in New Haven back to Lawrence + Memorial then back home multiple times each week.

In "the land of steady habits" there was perhaps one no steadier than Dr. Deren. We thank him for his leadership, and his service and mentorship to our Chapter, our patients, and our profession.
